London, January 16.

WE received the following Account of the Revolutions in the Empire of the Great Mogul, by the laſt Fleet which arrived from India.

Fort St. George, February 8. 1708. The late Emperor Aurenge Zebe, at his Death, divided his Dominions between his two Sons, Shah-Aalam and Kaum-Bachſh; but Shah-Aalam the Elder, who ſucceeded Aurenge Zebe in his Throne, being excited by the Ambition of his Sons, engaged in a War againſt Kaum Bachſh, advanced with a numerous Army towards Golcunda, which is the Metropolis of his Dominions, and ſent him a Meſſage, that unleſs he quitted that City and acknowledged him as his Sovereign, he could not expect to be continued in the quiet Poſſeſſion of the Kingdoms that were left him by Aurenge-Zebe. Kaum Bachſh returned Anſwer to this Meſſage, that the Emperor could not but be very well ſatisfied of the Juſtice of his Title to theſe Kingdoms, and therefore he hoped that, as he would yield him the ſame Reſpect and Obedience as if he were his Father, ſo he might expect the ſame Protection from him, and be permitted to enjoy that Crown which had been left him by his Predeceſſor. Shah Aalam was willing to acquieſce in this Submiſſion, and a Treaty was ſet on foot in order to remove all Miſunderſtandings between the two Princes; but the Emperor's Sons being entirely averſe to any Accommodation, they fruſtrated the Succeſs of that Treaty, and Kaum Bachſh being ſenſible that if he fell into the Power of the Emperor's Sons, he could expect no other than the uſual Fate of the younger Brothers of an Emperor, which is to be confined as a Priſoner during Life, he reſolved to make the utmoſt Efforts for his Defence, and fortified Golcunda in the beſt manner he could, and made other Preparations to oppoſe the Enemy, who were encamped at Nondeer, within three Days Journey from Golcunda. The Emperor being unwilling to appear in Perſon againſt his Brother, left the Command of the Army to his Sons, and took a Journey to a remote part of the Empire, in order to perform ſome extraordinary Acts of Devotion. In the mean time the War was carried on with great vigour by both Parties, and Kaum Bachſh obtained divers Succeſſes over the Enemy, and reduced ſeveral Towns to his Obedience that had before ſubmitted to the Emperor; but wanting Proviſions for his Army, his Troops deſerted in great numbers, and he was obliged to retire to Golcunda. The Enemy having Intelligence of his Circumſtances, believed he would endeavour to ſave himſelf by Flight, and accordingly took Meaſures to prevent his Eſcape, and ſent Inſtructions to our Governor to apprehend him, if he ſhould attempt to ſave himſelf by Sea; but Kaum Bachſh being reſolved to hazard another Battel, notwithſtanding the Weakneſs of his Army, and the Deſertion of his Troops, drew out his Forces into the Field, and engaged the Enemy on the 13th of the laſt December; and after a brave Defence, was entirely defeated. Kaum Bachſh his Son was killed in the Action, and he himſelf taken Priſoner; in which Condition he died ſoon after of his Wounds received in the Battel. The Emperor's Court is now at Golcunda, and our Governor is providing a Preſent to be ſent thither on the Occaſion of their late Succeſſes.

Hamburgh, January 7. N. S. Our laſt Advices from Sweden ſay, that the Regency of that Kingdom had ſent one of the principal Miniſters to his Swediſh Majeſty at Bender, as well to inform themſelves of his Majeſty's preſent Circumſtances, as to receive his Inſtructions what Methods to take in the preſent Exigency of their Affairs. In the mean time they are making great Preparations for the Security of their Country; and the new Levies are carried on throughout the Swediſh Dominions with very good Succeſs. Great numbers of Men voluntarily enter themſelves into the Service; and they give out, that they ſhall be able to bring a ſufficient Force into the Field, to oppoſe any Enterprize of the Danes next Campaign. Advices from Poland ſay, that the Plague was very much abated at Dantzick; but ſuch Multitudes of People had died of that Diſtemper, that it was reported the Magiſtrates would Publiſh an Edict, propoſing large Privileges to all Foreigners who would ſettle themſelves in that City, whereby they hope to retrieve the decay of their Trade, as well as to invite ſuch a number of Strangers to inhabit among them, as may repair the great Loſs of Inhabitants they have ſuſtained by that Calamity. His Pruſſian Majeſty having permitted his Subjects to import Corn into Coningsberg, the Price of that Commodity was become very moderate in that Town. Theſe Advices add, that the Hereditary Prince of Muſcovy was ſet out on his Journey to Vienna, but deſigned to return to Warſaw, in order to be preſent with King Auguſtus at the General Diet of the States of Poland. Letters from Cracow of the 18th of the laſt Month ſay, that a Gentleman, whom King Staniſlaus had ſome Months ago ſent to the King of Sweden, returned from Bender on the 16th, with Advice, that his Swediſh Majeſty continued in that Place, and had lately ſent the Secretary Klinkeſtroom with Diſpatches of great Importance to Stockholm; and that Prince Lubomirski was marched into Hungary with thoſe Troops which he had formerly promiſed the Emperor, in order to join the Imperial Forces in that Kingdom. The laſt Letters from Mittau import, that Gen. Czer-

Yeſterday came in here the two Maries of this Place from New Caſtle, which was chaſed into this Port by a ſmall French Privateer: She came from Spithead with Sir John Norris, and the Fleet under his Command, who paſt by this Harbour the ſame Morning. Her Majeſty's Ship the Roſe ſailed after the French Privateer, but is not yet returned.

The Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty having received two Papers ſign'd B. S. by which an Offer is made to diſcover ſomething that may be of Advantage to her Majeſty's Service, in relation to the Ships of the Royal Navy; their Lordſhips do hereby give Notice, that if the Perſon will attend them at their Office, he ſhall have all fitting Encouragement and Protection.

Whereas a Letter dated London, January the 12*th,* 1709-10. and ſigned D. V. was on the ſaid Day ſent to the Office of the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, Principal Secretary of State; if the Subſcriber will attend his Lordſhip, and make out what he propoſes, he ſhall have all fitting Protection and Encouragement.

Advertiſements.
